Dr. H. C. Burleigh,
Apt. 507, 33 Ontario St.,
Kingston, Ontario.

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

It was a real pleasure to have your letter and to learn another book was on the way. I had noted your name as guest speaker in the Kingston Newsletter, with some measure of guilt that it has taken so long for me to contact you. I have made some progress, thanks to the Finnigan side of the family, but have not yet ascertained whence came all those long tall Hendersons.

You mention your connection with Amherst Island and those "tall guys" - this past summer I learned that a great-grandson of the original George Henderson (one of the 25 brothers, only one already married with a family on arrival on Amherst Island) was living just east of Vancouver. Between house repair and ill health we have not yet met, but on the phone he told me he is just over 6' and his son, Bill Hartley, is 6' 7". That would be the tallest one so far, from a genetic viewpoint it would be interesting to know just how many have inherited the long Scandinavian bones.

A cheque for $25.00 is enclosed, and I do hope a copy of your book is available. Certainly I do owe you for your continued interest, and for sending me the list from the Cemeteries. I have fitted them in and am enclosing for you a rather shortened version of my version to date, gleaned from Census, Agric. Census, family records, and family memories plus a copy of the Meacham Atlas.

Until the original deed to C - Robert Henderson's farm can be checked (now under ARDA) I will not write to Ireland. If his place of origin is not given, then there may be a marriage record for B-George Henderson and Nancy (Agnes) Mainelaughlan. I learned her last name this summer from Lucille Brown, and as Nancy was Ch. of Eng. it should be registered, at that date I believe all Ulster marriages had to be listed with the Church of England in Belfast.

The Nancy/Agnes names have us all puzzled, we do not know why in Census 1861 all Nancys became Agnes. Yet Dad and his sister say Agnes Finnigan Henderson was always known to them as "Aunt Nancy".

Would you have a suggestion, sir, as to how I should proceed to locate the Family F - David Henderson and Ann, son George, who seem to have left before the 1851 Census?

I look forward to receipt of your book - Daniel Fowler's autobiography was pleasant, and we enjoyed the exhibition last spring, but there was little about the Island people. Thank you.

The query in "Families" was not too good, I did not have as much information and learned later there was no known sister, Mary, then the Queries Editor managed to jumble my original rather badly.

Your chapter on the Island in the Lennox and Addington Centennial book has proven most helpful and this fall I had the Museum send a copy to Mr. Hitchcock in Windsor for his help in obtaining material from Lucille and Genevieve Fleming, and for jottings from Dungannon Cemetery. My cousin, Fran Holmes in Toronto, goes to the Archives and Library there and went to study the 18th Century maps of Ireland at Toronto's new Research Library.

She found the name Henderson on Antrim but nowhere in Co. Down. I believe that that is where we will find them. Years ago I asked Dad where they were from and he replied at once "Antrim and Down" but could not tell me which branch. Now it is quite definite that the Finnigans were from Down. He says also that they did not all go to Amherst, some went to Wolfe Island. I searched the Census but did not locate them, perhaps when I can finally get a copy of 1881 ???

Some interesting things have come up - a letter from a man in New York thanking my great-grandfather for sending him word of his brother's death by drowning. They had wanted the brother to stay on in New York State but he wanted to return to Amherst, saying that my ancestor, John, was the kindest man he'd ever seen. To me, that makes all my efforts seem worth while.

We have also been trying to read as many books about the early years as we can, both Fran and I want to know what it was like for them then. There is a reference to the Earl of Mount Cashel in Western Ontario too, but little else seems to be known.

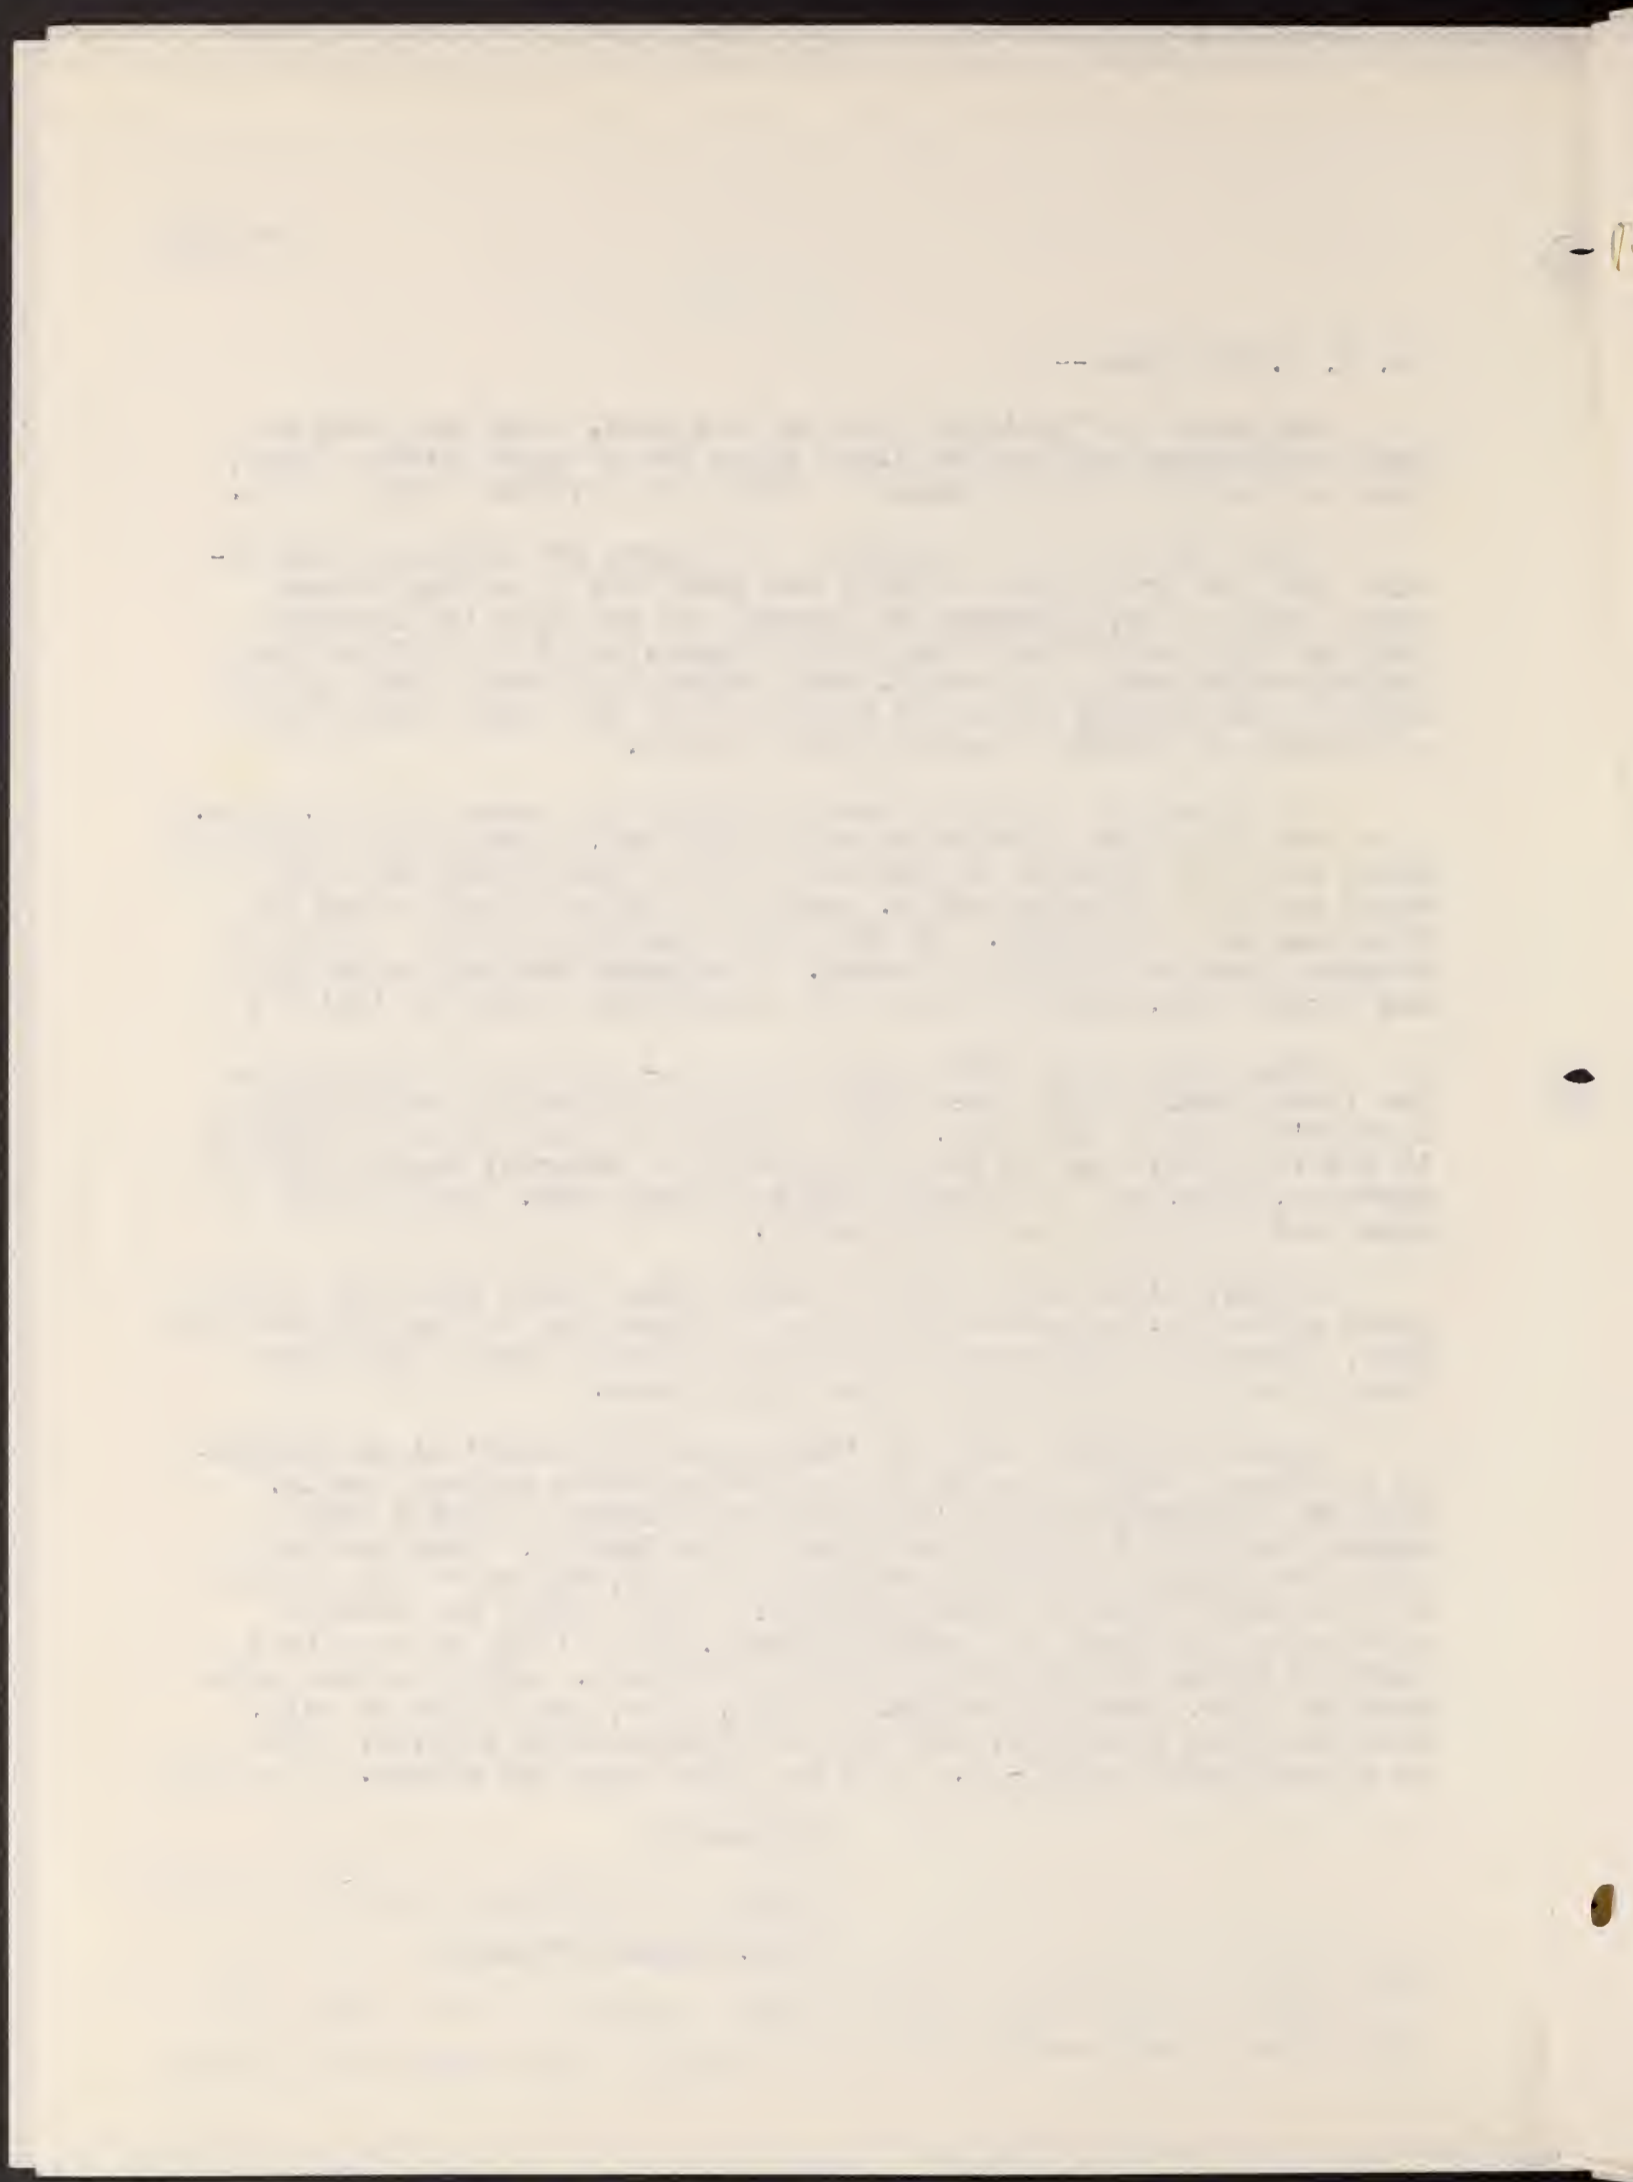

As to the rumour that the 'Hendersons had money' it is certainly persistent except none of us know quite how to account for it. Even Bill Hitchcock said he'd heard Jane Henderson married first cousin Tom Polly 'to keep the money in the family'. Jane and Ann were given $1,000 each in their father's will, though it was to come off the farms given to their brothers. Their father was annoyed with Robert and David for going to Calif. gold fields so gave them teams of horses (the Hendersons were 'horse' men). However, they both settled in Co. Huron where their father, John, owned land as well. Sara was given a wedding; and her two children each $125.00. This is my own family group - A. I do not know about the others. in will 1970.

Sincerely,

Elsie M. Wolski (née Henderson)

(Mrs. Zygmunt Wolski)

P.S. It was only in the past year I was able to get the material well enough organized to send.

$$f(x) = \begin{cases} 1 & \text{if } x \in [0, 1] \\ 0 & \text{if } x \in [1, 2] \\ 1 & \text{if } x \in [2, 3] \\ 0 & \text{if } x \in [3, 4] \\ \vdots \end{cases}$$

It is easy to see that the function  $f(x)$  is periodic with period 2. The function  $f(x)$  is also symmetric with respect to the line  $x = 1$ .
